It was the most enthusiastic gathering of merchants that has assembled at a meeting of the Rushville Retail Merchants Association for some time that was present at the regular session in the court house assembly room last night to make tentative plans for "Sherman Day" when the vice-president of the United States will be the guest of the city.

It was reported to the gathering which included forty of the leading merchants that James S. Sherman would arrive in Indianapolis at eleven-fifteen o'clock Tuesday morning, October tenth, and would be conveyed to this city at once in an automobile. It was told at the meeting that Mr. Sherman will be at the disposal of the association in the afternoon and plans were laid for him to make a speech at that time. W. O. Feudner, secretary, made the report concerning Sherman's visit.

H. G. Hackman moved that the association advertise the day extensively and it was his opinion that the business men should make some effort to offer bargains to attract the crowd.

Roy H. Jones made a short talk in which he emphasized the necessity of decorating. It was his idea that the city should be wreathed in pennants, bunting and flags. He believed that flags should be stretched across the street and that every merchant in the city should decorate his store front befitting the occasion.

F. E. Wolcott reiterated the statements of Mr. Jones and believed that much emphasis should be placed on the decorating. Bert Simpson suggested that a committee on arrangements be appointed to take charge of a part of the duties that are to be performed. It was suggested that it would be necessary to build a speakers stand in the court house yard and that one or more bands should be employed.

F. E. Wolcott suggested that arrangements be made with the Rush County Chautauqua Association to use the coliseum in case of rain and that was mutually agreed upon. W. O. Feudner said that he disliked the idea of making the vice-president a "Bargain Day" attraction and the idea of holding a "Big Wednesday" in connection with the day was given up entirely. Bert Mullin moved, and it was unanimously passed, that a committee on arrangements be appointed.

MOTORCYCLE AND AUTO COLLIDE

John Frazee Runs His Machine, Head-on, Into Dr. Sparks' Automobile.

MOTORCYCLIST IS NOT HURT

While riding his motorcycle on the wrong side of Main street about one o'clock this afternoon, John Frazee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Frazee, ran his motorcycle head-on into Dr. Frank M. Sparks' automobile which was going south in Main street in front of Joe Amos' residence. Fortunately for the motorcycle rider, Dr. Sparks saw the machine coming and brought his automobile to a complete standstill just before the impact came. John Frazee was thrown from his machine but was not injured in the least. The front spring on the automobile shoved its way through the front wheel of the motorcycle which was the only damage done in the collision that might have resulted seriously.

The windows will be lowered and although the building will be only three stories it will have the appearance of a four story structure. The outside of the building when completed will have the appearance of being a plain stone building. The contract for the exterior work has not yet been let.

CENSURES CITY DADS FOR DELAY

President Tony Schrichte Takes That Body to Task For Not Admitting New Factory.

SPEAKS AT MERCHANTS MEET

Declares Mental Vision of Councilmen is Clouded and Urges Men to Use Influence.

At the conclusion of the regular meeting of the Rushville Retail Merchants Association meeting last night President Tony Schrichte launched forth on a severe arraignment of the city council for its recent delay in admitting the Rushville Furniture Company to Rushville. He urged that the merchants of Rushville use their influence with the members of the council to persuade that body to take the new addition into the city at once. He referred to the power which the Merchants Association could exert to attempt to bring about fair treatment for the new local company.

"If no one else has anything to say for the good of the association, I think I will make a few remarks," said Mr. Schrichte as he arose from his chair. "I desire to refer to the recent failure of the town council to admit the Rushville Furniture Company to Rushville. It appears to me that the town council has gone to sleep and I think it is high time that it be awakened.

"The town council has practically put a wet blanket on the factory proposition in this city. Here is a company of local capitalists knocking for admission to our city and the council has its eyes and its ears shut. I think it is the duty of this association to wake it up. It can do the city a lot of harm and if it has not got a true progressive spirit it should be made to realize that it should have such a thing.

"We should be proud of that factory and we should not under estimate its value. It came to our city and asked for admission. True, the people of Rushville bought lots, but it is a safe wager that they did not lose any money on the investment. The factory is backed by local capitalists and is worthy of our support.

"Any city would give such a factory.

IS SUICIDE DAY AFTER WEDDING

E. I. Jobe of Fayette County, Who Married Glenwood Girl, Wednesday, Commits Suicide.

HE HANGS HIMSELF IN BARN

Body is Discovered by Brother at 9 O'clock This Morning—Believed to Have Gone Insane.

Emmett I. Jobe, thirty-one years old, of near Alquina, eight miles southeast of Connersville, who was married Wednesday night to Miss Charlotte Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Murphy, living one mile east of Glenwood, committed suicide by hanging himself in the barn on his farm at seven o'clock this morning. His body was found by a brother two hours later.

It is the common belief in the vicinity of his home that he became suddenly insane and committed the deed. Being a bridegroom of two nights and a day it is considered next to impossible to get at the reason for him taking his life.

The theory that he became suddenly insane is upheld by the fact that Mr. Jobe was in a retreat for the insane at Oxford, Ohio, several years ago. He was sent there having been adjudged insane by a commission. Later he was released as cured and was said to be a well and healthy man. It is the prevailing belief in the Alquina neighborhood that the bridegroom went insane in a moment and took his life on the instant.

It is supposed that Mr. Jobe hung himself about seven o'clock as he was last seen shortly before that time. He went in the direction of the barn at his home. When he did not return to the house as soon as it was thought he would, his brother Clarence went out in search for him. Opening the barn door he made the gruesome discovery. The body was cut down and removed to the house and coroner Spicely of Connersville was called.

It was only Wednesday evening that Miss Murphy and Mr. Jobe were married in Connersville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. F. Smith of Connersville at his home. The bride was attended by a sister, and the bridegroom by a relative.

The Connersville newspapers gave an account of the wedding in last night's issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Murphy, parents of the bride of a day, who is now a widow, are prominent people in the Glenwood neighborhood. Mr. Murphy is a wealthy and industrious farmer and well known over the eastern part of the county. Mrs. Chester Beaver of Union township is a sister of Mrs. Jobe, the widow.

Mr. Jobe has been a very industrious and thrifty farmer for a number of years, since his return from the Oxford asylum. No funeral arrangements have been made.

AUTO PARADE WILL BE ONE FEATURE

Will be Given Thursday Night of the Horse Show—Elmer Caldwell Appointed Superintendent.

THE CARS WILL BE DECORATED

Arrangements are being made for a big automobile parade on Thursday night of the horse show and Elmer Caldwell has been appointed superintendent of this department. It is planned to make the parade one of the feature attractions and will be the largest of its kind ever held here.

All automobile owners of the county will be asked to participate and a prize has been offered for the best decorated machine in the parade with the horse show colors, green and white. This feature of the horse show is an added attraction and its success is assured. Mr. Caldwell has started work on the plans for the big auto parade and from all indications a large number will be in line.

JURORS LOCKED IN JURY ROOM

Case of Woodfill Against Jones is Held up While Attorneys Seek Law Authorities.

CASE ON NOTE AND CONTRACT

Little was accomplished in the Rush circuit court today. The jury in the case of Mrs. Jesse Hart Woodfill, wife of Webb Woodfill of Greensburg against Louisa and Casper Jones of this county, was empaneled this morning, but that was about all that was done. Some evidence was heard and the jury retired at eleven o'clock until the lawyers had settled a question of law. The jurors were released at noon and returned at one o'clock and at a late hour this afternoon were still locked in the jury room. One of the attorneys filed an objection and the court sustained it. The attorneys on the other side contended differently. The delay was caused while the law authorities were looked up. The suit is on a note and contract and $263 is demanded.

GUINEA HATCHES 13 CHICKS.

St. Paul Telegram: An issue of the Telegram without a freak story would be simply awful. So here goes another. Mrs. Lucy Allison, who lives five miles northeast of here, has a guinea-hen that has just come off a setting of hen eggs and successfully hatched out thirteen of the feathered birds. The chicks are all healthy and bid fair to grow up to the frying pan stage.

There will be soldiers meeting at the Salvation Army church tonight as was announced.

PREDICTS MUCH FOR THE FUTURE

At Associated Press Banquet in Indianapolis James E. Watson Sounds Optimistic Note.

HAS FAITH IN THE FUTURE

Declares Doubt in Future of This Republic is Equivalent to Doubting Rule of God.

James E. Watson was one of the speakers at the farewell banquet given George M. Cook, Indiana manager of the Associated Press by the Indiana Associated Press at the Columbia club in Indianapolis last evening. Col. Henry Watterson of Kentucky, one of the most noted editors in the United States was the honorary guest. Others who delivered toasts besides Mr. Watson and Mr. Watterson were Senator John W. Kern and Oscar E. Bland of Linton, former State senator. Fred A. Miller of the South Bend Tribune, was toastmaster. Writing in the Indianapolis Star, George M. Stout says of the local statesman's speech:

James E. Watson spoke with all his old energy and fire. "What Ails Us?" was his theme, as set down on the list of toasts. Mr. Watson stuck pretty closely to his text. His argument was that envy was at the root of most of the evils of the day. He declared some present day statesmen are afflicted with envy and they call it political economy.

"Some statesmen," he said, "are attacked by envy and they call it uplift and inspiration for the salvation of the people. But it is just plain, old-fashioned envy."

Mr. Watson attacked the "magazine trust" bitterly. He declared that the country had reached a state of unrest and agitation, and he blamed the newspapers in part, but visited his denunciation chiefly upon the magazines, charging that they are out to make money and that they seek circulation by catering to certain popular demands in order to obtain circulation and higher advertising rates. "I am not a doctor," said Mr. Watson. "I did not know 'what ailed us' until I heard my friend Bland say there were 23,000 newspapers in the United States. Then I knew. I always thought, in my fourteen years in politics, that I needed newspaper support. It was a revelation to me to hear Col. Watterson say that the candidate is better off without the press. I always tried to get the newspapers for me.

"I am somewhat at a loss for subject matter on this occasion. I will not discover for you anew the Ten Commandments. We have in this day plenty of statesmen of the effervescent school to resurrect and parade the commandments as their own exclusive stock in trade. We have modern statesmen enough who boldly make it known that they embody all the virtues. I may not talk of the constitution, for since its limitations have been removed there is no constitution left. I will not tell you lies, for if I do you will roast me in your papers. If I told you the truth, unless I presented moving pictures with it, you would not recognize it.

"For my part I believe in the old partisan press; now gone, I fear. I believe it was better for the country when we had organized, confounding political parties. Since statesmanship has become so prevalent and so acute there are no parties.

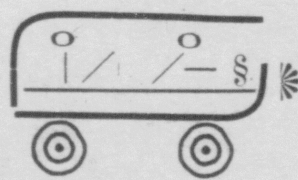

"But there are many voters who can not make speeches. The quiet, thinking people are yet to be heard from. The man who changes his mind often must make many speeches

Daffydil Doings Down In Dippy Dell

Rush Budd detests black birds. Well, about everybody else in the north part of the city holds some malice against them. But Rush especially is angry with them. He vents his spleen on the pests ever so often and the other night he was out on the lawn beating one of his beautiful shade trees into a pulp with a big club with an eye to shooing them away. And then he had another idea which did not hurt him in the least. He rushed to the street and picked up an eighteen-karat pebble and hurled it into the tree with all his might and main. The effect was marvelous for all of the black things winged their way to a neighbor's tree. Rush was surprised at his wonderful whip. He thought he'd practice a little and he threw another—this time it was a rock—into the air. Such a distance! Rush sat down and waited for the stone to come down but it showed no inclination to return to earth. He sat there for a while, until he had decided that another heavenly body had annexed the pebble and then got up to go in the house. He approached the door, when "Bing!" something popped him on the top of the head and he sank to the grassy green. It was that rock he had thrown into the air. Just then Susie, the milk girl, happened to be passing and she walked up to the prostrate form and sighed:

"If Jim Dill was dippy, would he be a Daffy-dil?"

Easy on the gasoline, Tommy, it's a hired automobile.

The Girl From His Town

By
Marie Van Vorst

IN this altogether charming and delightful story about to appear in serial form in this paper, Miss Van Vorst has taken a young man out of a Montana mining town and dropped him down unceremoniously in the midst of London's smart set. There he sees and hears and meets Letty Lane, the reigning comic opera success. It is she who is The Girl From His Town, for once upon a time she sang in a church choir on Sundays and on week-days served ice cream soda water at the corner drug store.

It is a clever and dashing story that will leave you happy and satisfied, for it is told with an animation that makes you see vividly through the author's eyes and her picturesque descriptions.

HOTEL KEEPERS AND THE I.O.O.F.

Order Puts Further Ban On the Liquor Business.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Hereafter Hotel Keepers Who Are Licensed to Sell Intoxicating Liquors Will Be Barred From Admission to the Odd Fellows Order—Rebeksahs Disappointed in Their Aspirations For National Assembly.

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—From admission to the Odd Fellows order hotel keepers licensed to sell intoxicating liquors will hereafter be barred. This was the decision of the sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows, which adopted an amendment to the constitution to this effect by a vote of 139 to 15.

The constitutional amendment which bars hotel keepers holding liquor licenses from entering the order will not be effective against those who already are Odd Fellows. There was already a law in the order prohibiting hotel keepers who dispense liquor over the bar from becoming Odd Fellows. In Indiana there is a law which permits a hotel corporation to take out a saloon license. Whether or not the measure adopted by the Odd Fellows would be effective against officers of such a corporation is a matter which would probably come up for the consideration of the judiciary committee later on.

Hopes of the women belonging to the Rebekahs, the auxiliary to the Odd Fellows, and their men friends in the order of obtaining the consent of the sovereign grand lodge at this session for the creation of a Rebekah national assembly, were disappointed when the grand lodge declared against the proposition.

FINALLY GOT HIM

Alleged Assailant of Geneva Woman Trained by Bloodhounds.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 22.—Charles Hawkenreider, aged thirty, junk dealer of Geneva, was brought to this city and placed in jail by L. G. Botkins, marshal of Geneva. Hawkenreider is charged with attacking Mrs. James Ireland, who is a mute. When officers attempted to arrest him he put up a fight with a hatchet, and while they went to get help he made his escape. Bloodhounds were obtained and after a twelve-hour search he was found at St. Anthony, O., where Marshal Botkins arrested him. He pleaded not guilty before Squire Armstrong and is now under a $1,000 bond.

COULD NOT CONCEAL HIS DISAPPOINTMENT

The President Wasn't Looking for This Result.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 22.—While he was attending a banquet here the news of the defeat of reciprocity and the Laurier government in Canada came to President Taft. "I am very much disappointed," he said.

This was the president's only comment. He said that he wanted to have complete and authentic returns before he made a more lengthy statement. But his face showed the keen disappointment that he felt at the defeat of his favorite policy. For several minutes his eyes remained on his plate, and the buzz of conversation and laughter passed by him unnoticed.

That Mr. Taft fully expected a complete victory for reciprocity was clearly shown in his speech during the afternoon at Battle Creek, Mich.

"I know," he said, "there are a lot of people in this vicinity who want to see reciprocity defeated. I had hoped that reciprocity would go through and prove the correctness of my judgment that it would be a good thing for both countries. It takes two to make a bargain, however, and if Canada declines to accept this pact I suppose that we can go along still doing business at the old stand."

They gave him a cheer then and he laughed again and waved his hand in appreciation of their kindness, though he knew that two to every one man before him were against reciprocity. This is a farming district.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The stock market has been thrown into confusion by the selling of United States Steel stocks on an enormous scale.

Governor Hoke Smith has issued an appeal to the farmers of Georgia urging them to hold their cotton until prices advanced.

The general tone of the Paris newspapers is favorable toward a satisfactory and peaceful solution of the Moroccan question.

It is said that overtures have been made to the bakers' union by the bread trust for a conference with a view of settling their differences.

As the result of her collision with a British cruiser it will require not less than two months to remedy the damage done to the giant steamer Olympic.

Mary Henderson, Rose Ferton and Ellen Lumberg, three young girls of Houghton, Wis., were drowned in the lake near there when their boat capsized.

European reports give the impression that the revolution and labor movement in Spain is at an end. The failure is the result of declaring martial law.

Joseph A. Frauenfelder, a German, was arrested at Boston for communicating knowledge of the defenses and construction of United States submarine vessels.

Tattersall castle, which was built by Oliver Cromwell, has been purchased by an American millionaire, who will re-erect it stone by stone in the United States.

Guadalupe Guzman, alleged Magonista spy, was shot by insurrecto soldiers after he had tried to assassinate the captain of the insurrecto guard at the racetrack at Juarez.

New York detectives caught Walter Mikoluejki, a young Pole, who has been manufacturing bombs and exploding them just for the fun of it. He liked to hear big noises and to watch excited crowds.

There is expression of satisfaction by the friends of Mr. Taft over the fact that the steel trust and the other great industrial corporations are showing a disposition to conform to the Sherman anti-trust law.

The Neenah (Wis.) police have in custody a stranger who says he is one of the trio of train robbers who held up and robbed the Northern Pacific passenger train at Buffalo, N. D., of $12,000 several weeks ago.

NEW YORK AND CHICAGO
BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIES

How about a committee to go to Indianapolis in automobiles to escort Vice-President Sherman to this city?

The President had a birthday recently, and no one thought of giving him a cake with 4 lighted candles.

They are having high price food riots in Austria, the principal effect of which will be that the rioters will pay higher taxes for more police.

It looks as if the Pacific and Indian oceans, from which our rains come, had not got quite as much dried up as some people thought.

Thirty steamers are now bringing 130,000 tons of sugar to relieve the shortage, but until they get here it will be mighty expensive to take the matinee girl to the theater.

As they have killed 10 people at an automobile race at Syracuse, we have decided to attend no more of these affairs, unless we can be provided with a seat in some very tall and massive tree.

The labor troubles on the railroads will probably be settled by advancing wages, imposing higher freight and passenger rates, and satisfying the public by putting a little more gilt in the Pullman cars.

Some of the New York State ministers' wives are forming an organization. They should take a firm position on the payment of their husband's salaries in the form of invitations to pink teas.

They have stolen the cornerstone from the county hospital in San Francisco, and there is a feeling that the corner stone of honest government in that town has also been abstracted.

It is suspected they will smuggle Mona Lisa in through Minnesota forests. But if the thief walked up the New York dock with the picture under his arm, no one in this country could tell whether he had the original or a copy.

The governors on dress parade spent their time discussing constitutional questions, but when they got off their hampering frock coats in the smoking room, some points on the art of capturing delegates were probably exchanged.

Some ideas were expressed at the meeting of the Rushville Retail Merchants Association last night which deserve careful thought. There is no doubt in the mind of every public spirited citizen that the city council should have arranged at once—as soon as the petition was filed with that body—to take the new factory into the corporation and arrange to extend the mains so that fire protection would be assured and the company could get insurance on its new building. But the question has been raised that the streets in the new addition should conform with the Rushville streets so that the beauty of the city would not be blemished. There is much truth in that. A jog in Perkins street at the entrance of the new addition would do much to destroy the beauty of the street and would probably be an eyesore to the city in later years if it should grow in that direction. In laying off the lots in the Stewart & Tompkins addition the streets were made to coincide with the Belmont addition and the fault lies first of all with the company which platted that addition without any consideration of Rushville's streets.

Always work on the theory that the "worm will turn." It's a good old adage.

We understand that the lieutenant governor is becoming frisky in his old age and has donned a "fuzzy" hat.

It is noted that he returned from Indianapolis with it and we suggest that the State executive patronize home industry.

We take it that temperance lecture to be held in the court house Sunday afternoon will be a "dry" affair.

No, no Magdalene, you were wrong when you ask us that question, "If Mame Hiner went to Connorsville would Carl Tingle?"

A Kansas woman has advertised for a husband who is a "tower of strength, very kind, energetic and generous, loving, tender and courteous always. "Well, Bill Moffett is a widower."

It appears, one and all, that this colymn, in its foolish and simple way, has become an institution in Rushville. In no less than twenty-four hours we have been kindly requested:

To build a new C. H. & D. depot.
To thank the horses and the driver for sweeping Second street last night.

To build a union station.
To have the county road supervisors use a road drag.

To "make a joke" about Lieut. Gov. Hall's new hat. (We tried that.)

To "take a rap" at Perkins street remonstrators.

These are only a few, kind sirs, that have come to our ears. We will attend to the suggested problems the first snow afternoon and in the meantime we would like to impress on the dear patrons of this colymn, that, as a reformer, it is a huge joke.

We couldn't believe that the high price of sugar will sour any of the good housewife's disposition.

STATE OF INDIANA'S DEATH RATE LOWER

Marked Decrease Over Similar Period Last Year.

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—A marked falling off in the number of deaths compared with the number for the corresponding month of last year is shown by the vital statistics report for August compiled by the state health board. For August this year there were 2,653 deaths, with a state rate of 11.5. For the corresponding month last year there were 581 more deaths, with a state rate of 13.5. The city rate for this year was 13.7 and the rural rate 9.9. Indianapolis had a rate of 14.6; Evansville, 10.6; Fort Wayne, 13.2; Terre Haute, 12.9; South Bend, 13.7; Muncie, 13.6; Anderson, 13.2; Richmond, 11.1; Hammond, 16.8; New Albany, 13.1; Lafayette, 15.2.

Typhoid fever was the prevailing disease, with diarrhea next in order, followed by pulmonary consumption, rheumatism, tonsillitis, cholera morbus, bronchitis, scarlet fever, cholera infantum, diphtheria and croup, and dysentery.

A Strange Disappearance.
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 22.—Under circumstances as mysterious as those connected with the disappearance of Captain John O'Connell of the Twenty-eighth Infantry a year ago, Lieutenant Gibbs Lykes, Ninth United States cavalry, is missing from St. Paul, and friends fear he has either met with foul play or is being held for some unknown reason.

CENSURE CITY DADS FOR DELAY

tory as this one which is being erected a $15,000 bonus and a free site willingly. And to think that it cost us nothing. Yet our city council hampers it and throws all of the impediments about it that are possible, so that it can not go ahead with its work and begin as soon as it expected. I'll venture to say that any city council around here would have given more for such a factory as we are getting.

"I have heard it said that members of the city council have said that the stockholders of the company should pay a couple of years taxes in advance so that the city would not be compelled to spend too great an outlay of money to extend the mains so that the factory could get fire protection. Think of it, men, pay two years' taxes in advance! The very idea! Any one of those stockholders have been paying taxes in Rushville from ten to forty years and your tax duplicate will show that.

"I honestly believe that it is the duty of the members of this association to widen and open the mental vision of the members of the city council, for it surely is clouded. I wish you merchants would ponder over this because it is a very vital question. Your moral support is worth much and the influence of this association is worth much on any public question. A banded organization can accomplish much. I wish every business man would use his influence with the city council in an endeavor to get them to see from the viewpoint of a better Rushville.

"I was told by a carpenter the other day that most people would be surprised if they knew the amount of building that is being planned right here in Rushville. He said that any number of people would build houses this fall and many planned to erect new homes this coming spring. That means that the city is prosperous and thrifty. I understand that many will build in the new addition, but they will hesitate if they can get no fire protection so that they can insure their property at a reasonable rate."

At the close of Mr. Schrichte's speech F. E. Wolcott said that he had talked with a member of the city council who had argued that the city council could not afford to extend the mains to the new addition because it would cost $5,000 due to the fact that it will be necessary to lay a larger main from Seventh street in Perkins north. He said that he figured with the councilman and showed him where the city would get the total back in taxes in less than two years.

H. G. Hackman moved that a committee of merchants wait on the city council at its next regular meeting, but it was thought best for every merchant to use his influence with the individual councilmen.

Ben A. Cox said that he understood that one councilman was holding back on the proposition because the lots in the addition are shorter than the regulation city lots and because the streets are narrower and do not conform with the city streets. He said he believed that a serious objection to the admission of the addition. Mr. Cox stated that he understood the council was planning to run mains to the factory for fire protection and that the council would ask that the men who platted the tract to straighten the streets so that they will conform with the city streets which they join.

Roy Jones asserted that cities all over the country are refusing to take additions into the corporation if the streets do not coincide with the ones already established. He said that many cities had made that serious mistake many years ago and were now straightening their streets at a great expense.

MEETING IN COURT HOUSE

L. L. Pickett of Louisville Will Deliver Temperance Address.

L. L. Pickett of Louisville, Ky., will deliver a temperance address on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the court house assembly room. Mr. Pickett is said to be a very fine speaker and is induced to stop over here while enroute to Richmond, where he will address the Yearly meeting of the Friends. The meeting Sunday is open to the public and a large crowd is desired.

O. C. NORRIS MAKE ADDRESS

Talks at Red Men's Meeting in Lafayette.

O. C. Norris of this city, great sachem of the Red Men lodge, delivered an address yesterday at the meeting of the Wabash Valley Paw Paw Association in Lafayette. Mr. Norris talked on the coming meeting of the Great Council to be held in Indianapolis, October 7 and 8. He said that 5000 new members would be taken into the order at that time and that it would be the greatest meeting of its kind ever held.

BOYS IN COLLISION.

Landy Hank and Harold Hungate, of Fountaintown, narrowly escaped serious or probably fatal injury on Wednesday evening, when a motorcycle they were riding was struck by an automobile driven by Rezin Davis, while they were returning from high school in that place. Neither of the lads was injured seriously as they managed to escape the wheels of the automobile by rolling out of harm's way.

Will This Be Your Home?

When the snow falls, and the cold winds sweep 'round your home, will your wife and children inside be warm and comfortable and happy? Will every room in the house be opened up---every bedroom heated?

Or will the greater part of the house be closed up---unused during the entire winter? Will your children have to undress and go to bed in cold, unhealthy rooms? Will your wife be complaining of the frigid atmosphere of the few rooms that are not closed---because the stove does not heat them as it should?

Which Will be Your Home?

You can have every room in your house warm and comfortable on the coldest day of winter---and with less expense than is necessary to heat just a few rooms with an ordinary stove---if you buy a FAVORITE BASE BURNER.

A FAVORITE BASE BURNER will keep every part of your house warm all winter, and do it with from two to three tons of coal. Every square inch of the Favorite radiates heat which constantly circulates throughout the home, keeping every part of it at an even temperature, night and day.

Don't compare the Favorite with any other heating stove. The triple exposed flues and back---the "paper-tight" construction---the beauty of design---put the Favorite in a class by itself.

The service was spoken by Rev. W. W. McCall and took place at the parsonage of the Springhill church. Mr. Mellwaine is the custodian of one of the schools in Rushville, and with his bride will make their home there, followed by the best wishes of many friends in the two counties.

WOULD PUT END TO OSBORNE CASE

Connersville Attorneys Journey to This City to File Motion to Quash Criminal Case.

SENT ON CHANGE OF VENUE

Defense Assert Affidavit Charging Henry Osborne With Murder is Faulty.

A number of attorneys interested in the case of the State vs. Henry Osborne, against whom the last grand jury returned an indictment following the fatal shooting of Rupert Chrisman, went to Rushville Thursday in connection with the case, says the Connersville News. It will be remembered that the case was sent from here on a change of venue to Rush county, where it will come up for trial some time during this term of court.

The mission of the lawyers yesterday was in connection with a proposed filing of a motion to quash the indictment. This, it is said by some of the attorneys for the defense, is manifestly faulty. The motion to quash was to have been made Thursday forenoon, but was not owing to the absence of Judge Blair, who was called to Shelbyville by the death of a relative.

A number of those most interested in the prosecution of the case were also present, and it is understood that in the event of the judge sustaining the motion to quash, an affidavit will forthwith be launched against Mr. Osborne. The time of the trial has not been set.

The motion to quash will be presented to Judge Blair next Monday, at which time it is supposed that the same array of legal talent as was present in the Rushville court Thursday will again be assembled to take care of whatever crises may arise incidental to the proceedings.

MOUNTAIN ROBBERS KILL MAIL CARRIERS

Authorities Investigating Evidence of Crime in Kentucky.

Jackson, Ky., Sept. 22.—It is feared as a result of the robbery of the mail between here and Hazard, Ky., that Leander Howard, the mail carrier, and William Marshall, assistant mail carrier, were murdered and their bodies hidden in a mountain ravine by the persons who committed the robbery. No trace has been obtained of Howard or Marshall.

Checks totaling $36,000 were found near the scene of the robbery. Many of the letters in the mail sacks contained money, but how much is not known. The sacks had been cut open and all their contents taken except the checks. The robbery occurred in a very lonely part of the mountains, and officials believe that it would have been a very easy thing to murder Howard and Marshall and secrete their bodies without danger of immediate detection.

Extinguished Fire With Wine. San Francisco, Sept. 22.—The old town of Sonoma was saved from destruction by fire last night by the use of wine from the tanks in the wineries there. The town is built almost entirely of wood and when the fire started it spread with great rapidity. The water supply was practically exhausted when the firemen turned their attention to the wine tanks. With the wine the progress of the flames was checked after a loss of $80,000.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace will have as the first picture a Selig, "The Warrant." It is a western story of tender pathos and delightful comedy. The other is an Edison picture, "A Famous Duel." It is said to be a picture containing many thrilling scenes and the duel is very realistic.

The Portola will have another of their feature shows tonight and Saturday night. "The Capture of Fort Ticonderoga" is the story of how Ethan Allen and the Green Mountain Boys captured Fort Ticonderoga on Lake Champlain, on the night of May 10, 1775, without spilling a drop of blood. A most interesting story is combined with the historic incident. "A Gay Time in Atlantic City" is the title of a great comedy film. Hubbies tried to fool their wives with a "nervous-breakdown-have-to-take-a-rest" yarn and go to Atlantic City. Here they are caught by their wives. The story is full of vim and vigor. The beach, the board-walk and many famous sights of the great summer resort are shown. The third picture is entitled "The Indian Brothers." A renegade Indian seeks admission into the tribe but is scorned. Because of this he kills the chief and escapes. A brother of the chief swears to get revenge and does so in a most novel manner. The picture is said to be full of thrills and is a most sensational film.

WOULD DESTROY TARIFF BARRIER

"Tear Down Every Custom House On the Border."—Taft.

PRESIDENT EXPRESSES A WISH

Speaking to the People of Michigan, President Taft Declares For Free Trade Between Canada and the United States—Indulges in Prophecy Regarding Reciprocity—Explains His Veto of Tariff Bills.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 22.—The largest single audience that he has had on this trip greeted President Taft here. More than 30,000 gathered to hear the president speak for the first time since the opening of the Canadian campaign on reciprocity. He told them that the talk of annexation with Canada was bosh. The meeting was held at Railroad park, an almost perfect natural amphitheater. The crowd before the president covered three acres.

Remarking that he knew the saying that only a fool prophesies, the president told them that nevertheless he wanted to register a prophecy with regard to reciprocity. "I want to prophesy," said he, "that in fifteen or eighteen months—and that will be before the next general election—the effect of reciprocity so far as the business of the farmer is concerned, will be so slight that it will form no part at all in the issue in discussion."

The president said that for himself he wished he might have the privilege of tearing down every customs house on the Canadian border, and to give the two countries free trade.

At Grand Rapids the president made his first speech of his western trip on the tariff and his vetoes of the wool, cotton and farmers' free list bills. The president attacked the Democrats and insurgent Republicans in the senate and house, who put those bills through the congress at the special session; defended his own course in vetting them and declared that he was unalterably opposed to revision of the tariff except on information gathered by the tariff board.

He defined clearly his own position with regard to tariff revision and made it plain that even if political defeat stared him in the face he would not alter that policy. The president predicted that revising the tariff with "blacksmith tools," such as he said the coalition of Democrats and insurgents used, will lead inevitably to a revision of feeling and a recurrence of the higher rates and the "old system of high tariff."

Kalamazoo gave the president a review of school children, an auto parade and last night a banquet, where he ended his visit to Michigan with an address on peace. The president is spending today in Peoria, Ill., his only stop in Illinois on his way west.

CHERRY RELIEF

First Annual Report of Relief Committee Just Submitted.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 22.—Children left fatherless by the Cherry mine disaster of 1909 have fared well and have grown in health since the mine catastrophe which made 170 widows.

In the report of the expenditures of the Cherry relief committee covering the first year's work, it is shown that of the 445 children left "to the generous bounty of the public," only six died.

When Vice Chairman J. E. Williams began to compile the report in June this year the total resources placed at the disposal of the committee were $281,538, of which $100,000 was appropriated by the Illinois legislature. From other public and private resources $181,538 was collected.

RECIPROCITY IS SNOWED UNDER

Canadian Opposition Turns the Tables On Laurier.

AN OVERWHELMING DEFEAT

Coming Borden Conservative Government Will Have Practically the Same Majority in Parliament as the Laurier Liberal Government Had in the Last and No One Is More Surprised Than the Tories Themselves.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 22.—Reciprocity and the Laurier government are beaten decisively. The opposition has completely turned the tables on Laurier, whose majority in the house of commons at dissolution was 43. The combined opposition majority will be probably 43. The figures in the twelfth parliament will likely be 132 Conservatives and Nationalists and 89 Liberals.

The Nationalists cut a poor figure, electing only two, these being in Quebec. R. L. Borden, the next prime minister, will therefore have a big majority of his own kind of straight Conservatives back of him, and all the speculation about the activities of the Nationalists in the next parliament goes for naught. The Liberals lost practically all along the line.

Even the west provides its disappointments. Returns from the west are incomplete, but returns from the east are practically complete. The line-up in the next parliament by provinces as indicated by available returns will be as follows:

|                        | Conservative. | Liberal. |
|------------------------|---------------|----------|
| British Columbia.....  | 5             | 2        |
| Alberta.....           | 2             | 5        |
| Saskatchewan.....      | 3             | 7        |
| Manitoba.....          | 7             | 3        |
| Ontario.....           | 74            | 12       |
| Quebec.....            | 24            | 41       |
| New Brunswick.....     | 6             | 7        |
| Nova Scotia.....       | 9             | 9        |
| Prince Edward Island.. | 2             | 2        |
|                        | 132           | 88       |

Yukon, with its one member, where the election is deferred to January, and has been considered safely Liberal, will probably follow the crowd.

Eight ministers have been defeated. They are Fielding and Patterson, authors of the reciprocity agreement; Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia; Graham, minister of railways; King, minister of labor; Bureau, solicitor general; Fisher, minister of agriculture, and Templeman, minister of the interior. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was elected in Souages, having already been elected by acclamation in Quebec east.

Ottawa is wild. The Conservatives won both Ottawa seats from the Liberals. After having been out in the cold for fifteen years, they are in a delirium of joy. Cabinet making will be the favorite Canadian pastime for weeks to come.

No one is more surprised than the Tories themselves. The defeat ends Sir Wilfrid Laurier's career. He is in Quebec today, and there is much speculation here among his lieutenants as to what he will do. The consensus of opinion is that he will not assume the leadership of the opposition, but will retire to private life. He has said that when the time came for him to retire from parliament he would like to have a place on the Ottawa improvement committee.

CAN'T WELL RESIGN

Secretary Wilson's Viewpoint on Question of Brewers' Meeting.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 22.—Ministers of this city who passed resolutions recently asking that Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson resign the honorary vice presidency of the International Brewers' congress, which will meet in a few weeks, have received a reply from Mr. Wilson. They had also asked President Taft to use his best efforts in getting Wilson to resign the office. The secretary said in his letter that as a representative of the government he could not well decline the honor that was offered to him. He also added that as the congress will be attended by the representatives of many nations who will discuss among other things the legal status of the brewers' business, it could not well be officially snubbed.

Lesson XIII.—Third Quarter, For Sept. 24, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Dan. vi, 10-23. Memory Verses, 21-23—Golden Text, Ps. xxiv, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

These historical lessons from the book of Daniel are most fascinating and most practically helpful, inasmuch as the God of Daniel and his friends is none other than our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the same yesterday, today and forever and always ready to hold strongly with all whose hearts are wholly for Him, not keeping us from trials, but manifesting His presence with us in the trial and bringing us through to His glory. Men and women who believe God were never more needed than now.

Oh, for a testimony such as was given concerning Daniel, even by his enemies! We shall not find any occasion against him, except we find it concerning the law of his God (verses 4, 5). Knowing something of his habit of prayer, they asked the king to sign a decree that no one should ask

Local Churches Sunday School Lesson Christian Endeavor

Thus shall it be in the morning of the first resurrection. No matter what the saints have suffered here in their mortal bodies, the resurrection body will be perfect, for we shall be like Him (1 John iii, 2). The accusers of Daniel were then cast into the den of lions, with their wives and children, and there was no deliverance for them.

As to the righteous and the wicked, we read in Ps. xlix, 14, that the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning. Study the morning deliverances of Scripture, but note that there will be no morning for the enemies of God (Isa. viii, 20, R. V.). In verses 25 to 27 see how by a world-wide decree the living God, the God of Daniel, was magnified. How telling are the words in verse 28, "So the Daniel prospered," and according to the last sentence in his book we shall find him in his appointed place in the kingdom—that kingdom under the whole heaven which is to be given to the people of the saints of the Most High, when all dominions shall serve and obey Him (Dan. vii, 27). That will be after or in connection with the overthrow of all the kingdoms of this world, as set forth in Dan. ii and vii. The great, self exalting, God defying anti-Christ shall come to his end, and none shall help him (Dan. xi, 36-38, 45).

Then shall "the stone" without human aid break in pieces the world powers and fill the earth with a kingdom of peace and righteousness, and the enemies of the Lord shall perish as truly as did Daniel's enemies (Dan. ii, 34-35; vii, 9-14; II Thess. i, 7-10). The Messiah has been cut off without receiving His kingdom, but at the end of the seventieth week everlasting righteousness shall be the portion of Daniel's people (Dan. ix, 24-27; Isa. ix, 21; xxxii, 1-17; Jer. xxiii, 5, 6).

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 24, 1911.

Topic.—A missionary journey around the world.—IX. Missions in Africa.—Acts viii, 26-40. Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

Africa is the largest and the most needy mission field in the world. It is indeed "Darkest Africa." In the more civilized parts the population is predominantly Mohammedan, and the opportunity and necessity for missionary work exist, but it is especially among the various native tribes that there is the greatest need. In Africa we find the lowest scale of humanity, represented in such tribes as the Hottentots, bushmen and pygmies. But among them and the other native tribes, such as the Zulus, the Kaffirs and the negroes we find also the lowest moral and religious ideas and forms of life.

The entire continent is therefore in need of the gospel, and when we consider the greatness of its area and the immensity of its population we can readily understand the vastness of the problem before the Christian church in spreading the gospel among all the people.

Where Africa's sunny fountains Roll down their golden sand, and the necessity of one's doing all that he can do if this great task is ever to be accomplished.

Here also as nowhere else we see the need of humble reliance upon the power and spirit of God in all missionary work. When we think of Africa—dark, degraded, downtrodden—we can but cry, "Who is sufficient for these things?" And our only comfort lies in the thought that "with God all things are possible."

The picture of Africa's needs is certainly a dark one. The natives are indolent, slavery still exists in degrading forms; intemperance abounds, and it is a sad commentary upon Christian government that missionaries and rum are carried to Africa on the same vessels; polygamy, with its kindred vices, which, alas, are too often encouraged by white men, is debasing manhood and womanhood and destroying marriage and family life. When we add to these gross immoralities the low intelligence of the natives and the inferior character of their religious beliefs, the outlook certainly seems dark and unpromising. Yet, on the other hand, there are some encouraging features. The natives generally are receptive to religious impressions, they are hospitable to strangers, docile and obedient and usually exceedingly kind. In some places each missionary on arrival is addressed with the title of "father" and "mother," and the ties between them become strong and often tender. So that it is not impossible for the enlightening and beneficent influences of Christianity to reach the baser elements of African nature through the more ennobling ones and to overcome them.

The continent of Africa has felt the touch of Christianity throughout the Christian centuries. Christ found in Egypt a refuge and a home from the hatred of Herod. Simon of Cyrene assisted Christ in bearing His cross up the hill of Calvary. An officer of Candace, queen of Ethiopia, was one of the earliest converts to Christianity. Missionaries early carried the cross to the home of the pharaohs, and in the centuries immediately following Christianity took deep root in northern Africa, and many of the early Christian sects still exist.

But it was reserved for more recent centuries to carry the truth to the native tribes of the east and south and the heart of Africa. Moffatt and Livingstone and others led the way that has been gladly followed. The crowning achievement was reached only a few years ago in the establishment of successful missions in the Sudan. The measure of previous success against seemingly overwhelming odds warrants our belief in great things for the days to come, and that it is the purpose of God to hear the call of darkest Africa and to deliver "the land from error's chain."

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. lxxiv, 20-22; Isa. ix, 2-4; xlv, 14; iii, 1-7; ix, 1-12; Hos. xi, 1; Matt. ii, 7-15; ix, 35-38; xxvii, 32; xxviii, 19, 20; Acts i, 8; Rom. vi, 16-23; x, 14, 15; Heb. vii, 24-26.

A Testimony.

In a little leaflet, entitled "A World-wide Opportunity," which sums up the impressions of his worldwide evangelistic tour, Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., has this to say of our movement:

"The influence of the Christian Endeavor movement throughout the world is always to be reckoned with, and the name of the father of the society is a household word everywhere. He is loved as few men are loved. When we have the final reckoning of things in eternity we shall find that no small part of the world's conquest is attributed to the army of young people stretching around the world and holding as their motto 'For Christ and the church.'"

LECTURE COURSE WILL OPEN SOON

Mrs. May W. Donnan Will be Here
For First Meet of Her Class
Sept. 30.

WILL CONTINUE UNTIL APRIL

Lecturer is Amply Prepared to Give Wealth of Information After Trip to Europe.

No announcement will be received with more pleasure than that the opening of Mrs. May W. Donnan's winter lecture course will take place soon. The first lecture will be given at half-past two Saturday, September 30, and continue every two weeks until April.

No one who wishes to keep in touch with the best literature both new and old can afford to miss these lectures. They meet a distinct need for the mass of readers of some cultivation and desirous of more, who are interested in the world progress in the field of literature, but who have not the time nor perhaps the opportunity for wide reading.

Mrs. Donnan's love for good books is keen and her knowledge wide. Those who have listened to her for several years are continually amazed at her fund of information and every one is charmed by her ease of manner; her delightful way of putting things. She is known as a lecturer, who consistently gives her best, and the continuance of the interest she inspires rests upon something more fundamental than mere brilliancy.

Literary people and those interested in the drama both in England and the United States are reading and talking about the Irish plays of Lady Gregory and J. M. Synge. The players from the Abbey Theater, Dublin, Ireland, are coming to the United States this winter in a series of these productions. Mrs. Donnan has read them all and saw several while in Europe this summer. She will speak of these at the first meeting.

A large attendance is desired for these lectures. Anyone wishing to take the course may apply to Mrs. Frank Hackleman, Mrs. Thomas McWhinney or Mrs. Will Jay.

WEAR THEM AS FOBS

Potatoes at 8 Cents Pound Are Luxury in Wyoming.

Residents of St. Paul and vicinity who have been howling about the high price of potatoes on the local market will please take notice. In Wyoming they are paying eight cents a pound for the tubers and can only afford to eat them twice a week. Alfred Embry received a letter from his step-son, John Boyce of Uva, Wyo., a few days ago to this effect. He stated that they were as scarce as hen's teeth and when they ate potatoes they were eaten as dessert. They wear one on Sunday for a watch charm.

LOOK FORWARD TO SHERMAN DAY

pointed and that was done as noted above.

President Tony Schrichte saw fit to make a few remarks complimentary of James E. Watson. He recalled the fact that the local statesman is a big man in the United States and that every effort should be made by the people of Rushville to honor him at the same time tribute is being paid to the second highest official in the United States. He said that the people of Rushville should make the vice-president of the United States feel that Rushville is proud of "Jim" Watson.

After Mr. Schrichte's speech it was suggested that a committee on advertising and a committee on decorations be appointed which was done. It was deemed best to advertise the big day as "Sherman day" and henceforth it will be known as such.

At the opening of the meeting Will O. Feudner reported that he had received replies from all of the railroads running into Rushville to the effect that all of them would be willing to run excursions into this city for the horse show for a small guarantee. He said that the Pennsylvania would run a special back to Shelbyville any night during the show for a guarantee of $50; that the L. E. & W. would run a special back to New Castle any night for the same guarantee and that the Big Four would run a special back to Greensburg any evening for a similar guarantee. It was reported that word from Greensburg is to the effect that Greensburg wants to "come back" at Rushville for the delegation which this city sent there for the jubilee and that city will probably arrange its own excursion. It was suggested that a round-trip special train be arranged for over the L. E. & W. to accommodate New Castle people who will come. The matter was postponed until the last meeting before the horse show when definite arrangements will be made.

Members of the horse show organization came to the meeting late in the evening and reported that they expected to get a number of free attractions for the night programs but that no definite arrangements had been made yet. They said that there were more horses entered for the show right now than there had been in any previous show. They also stated that the combination sale would be bigger than ever this year and that it might be necessary to hold it over another day. Sherman Oneal said that it had been customary for the horse show committee to arrange for wires to be stretched along the streets to be used for decorating purposes and that it could be done early this year so that they might be used for "Sherman Day" decoration. Sherman Oneal, John Davis and Harvey Cowing were named as a committee to attend to that.

W. O. Feudner suggested that Rushville send a delegation of boosters to Milroy one night during the fall festival there to advertise "Sherman Day" and the horse show. This idea met with favor and W. O. Feudner, Albert Winship, Sherman Oneal and F. E. Wolcott were appointed as a committee to procure automobiles and arrange for the trip. A Special meeting will be held on Tuesday night October third, to complete arrangements for the trip.

PREDICTS MUCH FOR THE FUTURE

to explain his changes of mind.

"I am not of the school of patriots that believes the future is gloomy, and that the chains of the trusts are upon the people. To doubt the future of this republic is to doubt that God rules.

"If anything ails us, it is envy. It is easy to harangue the multitude. The people follow the demagogue who strikes the chord of envy. The people are like a sick child in the night, willing to try any remedy that is offered.

"When Roosevelt became President great evils existed. The public was aroused. Statutes were passed. There was a general disposition to correct the evils of the time. The people rejoiced when remedial legislation was passed.

"But 10,000 Roosevelts arose. They filled the legislatures. They passed many laws. The country became filled with envy and agitation. Who was to blame? The newspapers, in part. But mostly the magazines.

"The people have been led astray. The thing has been carried too far. I believe in the old constitution, in property rights, personal rights and individual initiative. I am far from being a Socialist."

"Fine Democracy, fine," said Col. Watterson, grinning expansively and leaning back in his chair.

Mr. Watson retorted with the quotation having to do with the rose, its name and the lingering quality of the scent thereof. He went on:

"There is much sickly sentimentality about the making of money. I would teach the boys to make money and to be self-reliant. I would like to see another millionaire in Indiana if I could name him. All of us would. Let's tell the truth even if it sounds strange.

"We hear about free trade Republicans and tariff Democrats. There are no white blackbirds. The man who believes in protection is a Republican. The man who believes in revenue tariff is a Democrat. When I cease to believe in protection I will go to the Democrats as straight as a bee to its hive. I will not stop on the way in the Populist nor the Prohibition party.

"There are wise, good and patriotic men in all the various elements and crowds. No crowd should be permitted to rule the country. The patriot must leave his country and stand forth as a citizen. The newspapers have a great work of education and patriotism.

"If all the newspapers of the country would begin tomorrow to publish cheerful, optimistic matter, the people would be in a state of mind to welcome progress in thirty days from now. What has been the motto of the press and magazines in recent years? Has it been 'Progress?' No! The motto has been 'Soak him!' We have all indulged in that kind of thing. The people are iconoclastic. In such a situation there can be no advancement."

He closed by declaring his belief in the coming of better days. He predicted that development in the coming years would surpass that of the past.
